2026 Clean Energy Summit

A platform for measurement, accountability, and activation in the clean energy transition.

As energy investment accelerates nationwide, the sector faces a persistent challenge: infrastructure, workforce, and equity outcomes are often discussed independently and rarely measured together. TPS Summit 2026 is designed to close this gap.

14 May 2026

Cambridge, MA

The Summit convenes engineers, utilities, municipalities, employers, workforce leaders, community organizations, and funders to align around shared metrics, deployable models, and investable pathways that advance equitable clean energy.

Sponsors are not underwriting an event. They are investing in an ecosystem that makes clean energy impact measurable, comparable, and scalable.
